

Thank you for your support of Art of the Peace through membership, your directory listing or attending the arts symposium.

To date, Art of the Peace has published many issues of the magazine and maintained the website for several years. The website features all issues of the magazine as well as a complete Artists Directory and Gallery Directory with links to everyone's websites and email. We have successfully hosted the Annual Arts Symposium each fall, providing networking opportunities for regional artists and a chance to learn about arts outside our region.

What does the future hold for Art of the Peace? We will continue to grow the membership, publish the magazine and website, plan an annual symposium, host exhibitions, support regional marketing of the arts through tourism and provide access to workshops and educational opportunities.
